

peer anarchy

My dear peer Bryce Baril,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

Oh—hey. Remember that one time you founded an entire wall of ravens? Good times. Gooood times.

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Edna Nirvana,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

We expect your work in decentralizing social connections to be a powerful tool in our efforts to disrupt SILOS.

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Alexander Bakunin,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

It's been years since your first independent journey to The Conference. The seeds of inspiration and encouragement you've planted in individuals over the years have taken root and grown more than you could know. We expect more of the same from you now and in the future.

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Thedopolous Araldite,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

As a journeyman sailor yourself, you know this truth well: if we want to build ships, we mustn't drum up people to collect wood and assign them tasks and work, but rather teach them to long for the endless immensity of the sea. We must teach a spirit of freedom moreso than even our grandest technology!

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Alfred Chiesa,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

You love for life is one that needs to spread!

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Sherwood McGraw,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

As one of our most notorious representatives, we expect you to bring the full force of your passion and personality to bear in your presentation to The Conference.

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Matthew Creager,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

I'd like to pay you one small reminder: if you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. You must simply put foundations under them.

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Doug Waltman,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

That being said: rising up, back on the street. Did my time, took my chances. Went the distance, now I'm back on my feet—just a man and his will to survive. So many times it happens too fast: you change your passion for glory. Don't lose your grip on the dreams of the past! You must fight just to keep them alive. It's the eye of the tiger—it's the thrill of the fight, rising up to the challenge of our rival. And the last known survivor stalks his prey in the night, and he's watching us all with the eye of the tiger. You know what I mean.

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Ryan Biesemeyer,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

We hope your exploration of quantum and macro physics will provide you with insight that will be useful in our disruption of the universe.

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Philip Roberts,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

You know what, Philip? You're simply great.

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Eric Zanol,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

brb pepperoni

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Oliver Lewis,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

Beauty and anarchy will save the world.

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhonis

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.

peer anarchy

My dear peer Don Mitchell,

I expect you've traveled as one of our representatives to The Conference because you find yourself—like many of us!—dissatisfied with the status quo.

Hell, I think it goes without saying that anyone who's not concerned with the massively destructive hierarchy, patriarchy, and oligarchy dominating our time deserves few words more than “Wake up!” (Now, whither “sheeple”? That is the question, is it not?)

But sheeple or no sheeple, wake up the world we must!

While at The Conference, I urge you to let your efforts flow towards encouraging disagreement, spirited and free-thinking debate, and open-minded questioning—most especially of authorities.

We must also do whatever can be done to undermine Aidan Spencer and his strangling grip on our industry's lifeblood. The Feed should belong to all the TR and be managed by all, rather than administered by the single wealthiest corporation owned by the single wealthiest man. And his monopoly on the termini which make our craft possible? Simply untenable!

We have, of course, long suspected Spencer to be in league with SILOS—so be ever vigilant of he and his corporate lackeys if you attempt to bring him public discredit.

Cause as much chaos and disruption as possible. Take action, take responsibility—just don't let them take you alive.

Freeman William Proudhon

PS If you see our compatriot Etienne Bastille, greet him with the warmth of family.